

Greystone Recognized as Having One of Canada's 10 Most Admired Corporate Cultures

November 30, 2015: For Immediate Release

Greystone Managed Investments Inc. has been named one of Canada's 10 Most Admired Corporate Cultures of 2015 by Waterstone Human Capital. Greystone was recognized in the area of Growth and Small Cap. This is the second time that the organization has been recognized in the category, after first being acknowledged in 2012.

"Culture is an integral component of our organization and a key contributor to our success," said Chief Executive Officer, Rob Vanderhooft. "To be recognized by Waterstone for a second time is a testament to the dedication of our employees who strive to maintain a culture that consistently benefits our clients, our staff and our communities."

Waterstone's national program, now in its 11th year, annually recognizes best-in-class Canadian organizations for having cultures that enhance performance and sustain a competitive advantage. Forty winners are annually chosen across four categories; three are based on revenue (growth and small cap, mid-market and enterprise) and one not-for-profit category (broader public sector). Organization's submissions are scored on six categories: vision and leadership, recruitment and hiring for fit, cultural alignment and measurement, retention, rewards and recognition, organizational performance and corporate social responsibility. The Canada's 10 Most Admired Corporate Cultures™ program creates a benchmark of success for all those who are nominated.
